

Review Period for Initial Site Visits

Initial National Accreditation Program for Rectal Cancer (NAPRC) site visits review activity over a rolling 12 months. The period reviewed is dependent on the date of the confirmed site visit.

NOTE: All standards will be applied to patients treated within this review period, even if some treatment for that patient occurred before the defined review period. It is expected that documentation related to standard compliance will be provided for all standards for all patients that received any treatment during this review period.
